

Children Smoke Alarms

Today's smoke alarms work great for adults, BUT fail to wake up children. That is why over 50% of fire related deaths are comprised of children. They sleep through the loud noise and die of smoke inhalation.

If you are raising children (toddlers to teenagers) then this video is a MUST SEE!

To see the video, go to The National Association of Home Inspector's website at www.nahi.org and follow the link under featured articles titled "Smoke Alarms - Will They Wake Your Children?"

Reddco, Inc. manufactures talking smoke alarms. They allow parents to record their voice telling their kids to get out. The cost for this child smoke alarm is $27.00. Parents can find them at this website: www.redi-exit.com/talking-smoke-alarms.html.

Please pass this on to any parents you know.

Thank you,
Greg Wayman, President
Foundation-2-Rooftop, Inc.

Greg Wayman is a Board Member of The National Association of Home Inspectors, Inc., NAHI's Secretary/Treasurer, a NAHI Certified Real Estate Inspector with over 1,300 inspections under his belt, Heat Exchanger Experts Certified, NE Radon Measurement Specialist, Board Liaison to NAHI's Marketing/PR Committee and Website Committee, and Past Nebraska Chapter of NAHI President from 2003-2007.

